

WRITERS READ UKIAH

PRESENTS

ROBERTA WERDINGER

Born and raised in a suburb of Chicago, Roberta Werdinger came to California in 1977 in order to find herself. In the ensuing near-forty years, she found and then lost herself many times, meanwhile uncovering new selves which she also lost, re-found or redesigned. She has been or currently is a Zen monk, a poet and essayist, an English teacher, a professional writer and editor, a music programmer, and a Ukiah and Willits resident. She has received an Academy of American Poets award, has twice been invited to the Bread Loaf conference in Vermont, and has published work in the Redwood Coast Review and Leaping Clear, among others. She is at work on a memoir.

ART CENTER UKIAH

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 2017

7 PM: FEATURED READING

8 PM: OPEN MIC

Art Center Ukiah: 201 South State Street, Corner of Church Street, Ukiah, CA 95482
(1 block south of Ukiah Court House on opposite side of the street)

Suggested donation: $5  Refreshments provided

For Information, contact Writers Read Ukiah MC Michael Riedell, innisfree@pacific.net

Writers Read happens on the last Thursday of most every month and has been happening in Ukiah since 1999.

This reading series is sponsored in part by Poets & Writers, through a grant from the James Irvine Foundation and the Hearst Foundation.

Additional support provided by an anonymous local writer, Colored Horse Studios, Michael Riedell, Bill "Jabez" Churchill, the Poet Laureate Committee of Ukiah, Art Center Ukiah, and donations.