

WRITERS READ UKIAH

PRESENTS ROBIN RULE

Robin Rule has been a poet since 1966. Her second collection of short stories, Trailer for Rent: The Redbud Jane Stories, has just been published by Secret Goldfish Press. Rule has been the recipient of a California Arts Council Fellowship in Literature. She has read at Club des Poesie in Paris and at Sigh Johnny's on the Left Bank, as well as many bookstores, colleges, and coffee-houses in the Great Northwest. She is the author of four books of poetry.

ART CENTER UKIAH
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2018

7 PM: FEATURED READING

8 PM: OPEN MIC

Art Center Ukiah: 201 South State Street, Corner of Church Street, Ukiah, CA 95482
(1 block south of Ukiah Court House on opposite side of the street)

Suggested donation: $5  Refreshments provided

For Information, contact Writers Read Ukiah MC Michael Riedell, innisfree@pacific.net

Writers Read happens on the last Thursday of most every month and has been happening in Ukiah since 1999.

This reading series is sponsored in part by Poets & Writers, through a grant from the James Irvine Foundation and the Hearst Foundation.

Additional support provided by an anonymous local writer, Colored Horse Studios, Michael Riedell, Bill "Jabez" Churchill, the Poet Laureate Committee of Ukiah, Art Center Ukiah, and donations.