

WRITERS READ UKIAH

PRESENTS DONNA KERR

Donna Suzanne Kerr has published two chapbook collections, and her work appears in the anthology An Eye for an Eye Makes the Whole World Blind: Poets on 9/11. A past winner of the annual ukiaHaiku Festival, she has also served as a festival judge and keynote speaker. Her poetic topics range from astronomy to extinction, and include channeling the voices of fictional, historical, mythical, and endangered beings. Over the last 15 years, Ms. Kerr has read her poetry in San Francisco, and in Mendocino and Humboldt Counties.

ART CENTER UKIAH
THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 2018

7 PM: FEATURED READING

8 PM: OPEN MIC

Art Center Ukiah: 201 South State Street, Corner of Church Street, Ukiah, CA 95482
(1 block south of Ukiah Court House on opposite side of the street)

Suggested donation: $5  Refreshments provided

For Information, contact Writers Read Ukiah MC Michael Riedell, innisfree@pacific.net

Writers Read happens on the last Thursday of most every month and has been happening in Ukiah since 1999.

This reading series is sponsored in part by Poets & Writers, through a grant from the James Irvine Foundation and the Hearst Foundation.

Additional support provided by an anonymous local writer, Colored Horse Studios, Michael Riedell, Bill "Jabez" Churchill, the Poet Laureate Committee of Ukiah, Art Center Ukiah, and donations.